Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

Members of the Bracken County Middle School Baseball Team picked up trash along Highway 19 from the AA Highway to Route 8 on Saturday, July 12. We collected 20 bags filled with food containers and drink bottles in a 3 mile stretch of road where we had previously cleaned in April. We were very disappointed to see more garbage thrown out again before another week had even passed. The players and the adults were in agreement that picking up someone else's trash, they were too lazy to place in the proper place, was disgusting and not a pleasant way to spend a Saturday afternoon. We believe if people who threw out the trash would have to spend the afternoon cleaning up like we did, they would think twice before throwing something out their car window, we know we will.

*Sincerely,
The BCMS Baseball Team

Historical Society remembers contributions of John Lenox

The Bracken County Historical Society is mourning one of its own again. John Lenox passed away on Wednesday, July 16, 2014 at the University of Cincinnati Medical Center.

John and his wife, Pat, moved back to his home town in Bracken County, building a home in 1990 on family land in Foster, when he retired from dentistry. They became active in the Historical Society, volunteering at the Society's office every Friday, a program they maintained for many years. John served first as Vice President in 1998, and then President the following year, and Pat was elected Vice President, then Treasurer and Office Manager. Both joined the Life Member Register in January 2002. And in 2012, they were both given the Living History Award for their Special Devotion to Preserving the History of Bracken County.

John was instrumental in getting space on the third floor of the courthouse for the particular use of the Society, including the continued gathering of records to be stored, preserved, organized and researched. He physically moved shelving, boxes and books, at times arranging for help by additional manpower. He compiled a list of what archival work had been done by the group of ladies who spent much time in that area.

When Bracken County held Heritage Days in September, John volunteered his help at the stand for the Society. And again, when Bracken County needed someone to man the booth at the Northern Kentucky Regional History Day, John was there.

In 1998, he organized the paperwork for the group that cares for the Old Johnsville Pioneer Cemetery, serving as President for a time, and remaining a Board Member until his death.

There was much researching, even long distance phone calls, arranging and organizing, in the work that he did.

He familiarized himself with laws on naturalization and then researched the Bracken County records to write a book "Declaration and Naturalization Records from the Bracken County, KY Court 1797-1906."

He also wrote "The Land Grant Process in Kentucky and Land Grant Related Transactions in Bracken County, KY and Mason County, KY Involving Philip Buckner 1781-1807" and "Augusta, Kentucky Lot Owners 1797-1830 with Maps."

It is really hard to list all the things that John did for the Society because they were so numerous. But we are so grateful that John Lenox chose to help in any way that he could and did.

Thoughts and Meditations from the Scriptures

REWRITE YOUR LIFE

Writing can help us deal with many of life's problems. Many teenagers have weathered the storm and stress of those turbulent years by keeping a journal, and that same practice can help virtually anyone who can express him or herself in writing. Writing about our fears and anxieties has a way of making them a little less scary and often gives us insight into how to resolve the situation. It can also be helpful to write about our lives in a way that essentially rewrites the story. Someone who is feeling a lack of courage might write about themselves displaying courage. We all have stories to tell, and in thinking about our lives we have a tendency to place our lives into an overarching narrative. That is, we tell ourselves a particular story that makes sense of our life. The story we tell as a teenager is likely to be very different from the one we tell in our twenties or thirties, and there is obviously some wisdom to periodically updating our story. What is the story that you currently tell about your life, and how would you like to see it changed? As we get older, and especially as we approach our "golden years," we should think more about whether our story really does fit the life we have lived, and the story that we hope our life will someday tell. We should also remember that the final version can't be written until our life is complete. - Christopher Simon

Teach us to number our days, that we may gain a heart of wisdom. - Psalm 90:12

NEW LIFE FELLOWSHIP

by Beverly Whittaker

God is so good, all the time! We welcome all our visitors that came to worship with us this Sunday, July 27th. Angela Tucker and Sheryl Hicks brought the special this morning entitled "My Tribute". Pastor Doug's message was "How To Turn Your Setbacks Into Victory " with the text being from the book of Judges, chapters 6-8. We need to hang in there and not give up, but hold on to God and His promises.

Christian sympathy is extended to Sheila Johnson on the death of her sister. May God comfort you and your family at this difficult time.

We invite you to any of our services to learn more of Jesus and His love for our lives. Our Wednesday evening meal begins at 6:30 p.m. and prayer service at 7 p.m. Kingdom Builder's classes for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m. and praise and worship service is at 10:30 a.m. There is children's junior church and nursery provided. Remember God loves you and so do we! We are located at the intersection of the AA Hwy and 875 on the left.

Our Sunday at St. James started with a most impressive and solemn ceremony as The Most Reverend Roger J. Foys, Bishop of the Covington Diocese blest, consecrated and dedicated our new altar! Very few, if any, of our parishioners have been present for such a service and for those of us who were there, we can attest to the beauty and meaning of the prayers. One of the prayers spoke of Abraham preparing the altar on which he was to sacrifice his son, Isaac. From the Old Testament to the New Testament, up to present time, altars have been constructed to serve the purpose of offerings to God. This newly constructed altar, pictured at right, out of the 100 year old pew fronts will serve as the Lord's Table well beyond our second century of service to the Bracken County Community!

From all our St. James parishioners, we extend our sincerest appreciation to everyone who supported our Ice Cream Social this past weekend! Without the involvement of businesses and the patronage of the community, this day could not have been successful! Even though Sunday started out quite wet, windy and cool, your support and the sun made for a great afternoon of fun!

Our Revival is in full swing now (and may be over if you get this paper on Thursday). We have enjoyed Bro. L.D. Campbell each service and, as always, the special music each evening.

A "Back to School Undy 500" is August 1, for toddlers up through grade 5. Time is 1-5 p.m. We ask the children to bring a new pack of underwear (up to size 10-12). These will be donated to school resource centers.

The evening of August 1 for grades 6 and up, will be their "Back to School Lock-in Bash". This event ends Saturday morning at 9 a.m. We are asking them to bring school supplies.

Looking ahead is our annual Youth Fishing Tournament, September 13.

Prayer concerns include Sherry Fields, Chanis Cox, Zelma King, Mark Pribble, Eddie Ellis, Stephanie Karrick, Angie Pollard, Nora Hargett, Danny Jefferson, Kevin Hamilton, Gary Holmes, Virginia Wright, shut-ins, our leaders, and our armed services. We extend our sympathy to those loved ones of Tom Fields of Lexington.

COLOR BLINDNESS IS NOT COLOR BLIND

Color vision deficiency ("color blindness"), an inherited trait, is much more common among boys than it is among girls since the red and green pigment genes involved in color vision are located on the X chromosome. Beyond that, recent research also reveals that color vision deficiency afflicts, Caucasian boys at three times the rate of African-American boys. Among children between the ages of 37 and 72 months, 5.6% of Caucasian boys were "color blind" compared with 1.6% of African-American boys. In the same age group, Asian boys had the second highest percentage (3.1%), followed by Hispanic boys (2.6%) The overall prevalence of color vision deficiency is about 2% (59 boys and 4 girls out of the 4,005 children tested).

Rankins, then northerly with said division fence, 112 feet and 10 inches to the division fence between this lot and the lot formerly owned by Mrs. Ryan, now Robert Hamilton, then with said fence westerly 40 feet to the division fence between this lot and Lot #1 now the property of Robert Hamilton, then with said fence in a southerly direction 112 feet 10 inches to the beginning, being Lot #2 described in deed of W. G. McDonald to Stephen Welte, dated February 10, 1886, and recorded in Deed Book No. 24, page 121, Bracken County Records of Deeds. This conveyance is subject to all restrictions, rights of ways and easements of record.

SOURCE OF TITLE: Being the same property conveyed to Ernie Cox, Jr., and Anna Cox, husband and wife, who acquired title, with rights of survivorship, by virtue of a deed from Jack L. Ernie Cox, Jr., died on February 2, 2008 and pursuant to the survivorship clause on the vesting deed, all his rights and interest pass to Anna Cox.

The property shall be sold to the highest and best bidder(s) and said purchaser shall be required to pay cash or the sum of ten percent (10%) of the bid price in cash deposit with the balance of the purchase price to be due and payable in cash or certified funds, within thirty (30) days from the date of sale. The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon. If the total purchase price is not paid in cash, the required deposit shall be applied to any expenses incurred by a default of the purchaser. Provided, however, in the event a party of this action is the successful bidder at the sale of the property by the Master Commissioner, then the said party, upon payment of the court costs and sale expenses and any liens or judgments that have been given priority herein over the lien and judgment of said successful bidder/party, shall have its bid credited against its judgment herein.

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! Mother Nature sure has given us some spectacular lightening shows lately! And the rain, while pelting the area at times, was much needed and will help the crops at this critical time of year. Of course, it is Germantown Fair Week, and for as long as we can remember, area residents have counted on the phenomenon of rain during this particular week! Many area FFA and 4-H members have spent countless hours preparing for this big event and even though all won't be winners in the arena, they will still be winners. The hard work and dedication that has gotten them to the show, is the springboard of qualities that will propel them to be winners in life's arena! Best wishes to all for a fun-filled week at the Germantown Fair!

While at the Fair, many will be consuming water or pop from cans, plastic bottles and beverage cups. The Styrofoam or paper beverage containers are not recyclable, but the cans and bottles are at the top of the recycling list that could and should be recycled! In the U.S., water in plastic bottles is consumed at the rate of 1500 bottles per second and of the 2.5 million plastic bottles used every hour, less than 23% are recycled. Basically, out of the 50 billion bottles of water bought each year, 80% of them are tossed into landfills where, shielded from sunlight, will not decompose for thousands of years! Another way of stating the facts is that 38 billion water bottles are land filled each year that is worth more than $1 billion! The recommended eight glasses of water per day, at U.S. tap rates equals about forty-nine cents per year; that same amount of bottled water equals roughly $1,400! Another interesting fact about the plastic water bottle is that it is made from the same crude oil that our gasoline is made from and we all know that crude oil is a limited (and very expensive) natural resource. Bottom line, if you drink bottled water or consume a beverage in any plastic bottle, be a good steward of Mother Earth, and recycle all those plastic bottles!

Even though as individuals we can't earn money from recycling plastic bottles, we should make a genuine effort to recycle them. Aluminum cans on the other hand, can put some cash in your pockets! Currently, it takes about thirty-three 12 ounce aluminum cans to make a pound and those pounds can add dollars to your account! Aluminum is practically the perfect recyclable material and out of all the glass, paper, metals, cardboard, and plastics that comprise a landfill, only aluminum is 100% recyclable and it pays for itself. It takes about 400 years for aluminum to break down naturally, so the beverage can that you drank from today will still look the same in another century or two. 350,000 cans are manufactured every minute, so there are a lot recognizable cans in landfills today! As a matter of fact, every three months, Americans discard enough aluminum to completely rebuild every single commercial airplane in America!

It is vitally important that recycling become a way of life for everyone, not just for a few dedicated citizens! If you don't have a recycling program in your work place or home, NOW is an excellent time to start! Any and all plastic bottles and aluminum cans make an excellent starting point for establishing a recycling program! Our sincerest appreciation is extended to all those who RECYCLE, REUSE and REDUCE to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seen' you - Bin & Bug.

References: September 9, 1997 Board Meeting (Board Order #9) and August 17, 1999 Board Meeting (Board Order #3).

Effective July 11, 2005 - Athletic/Academic Coaches will be paid $100 per year for coaching experience up to 20 years (effective 1998-1999 School Year). Years experience will be added to coaching supplement as listed on extra-duty pay schedule. Experience will be granted at any level (Elementary, Middle and High) as long as the sport is the same and it was a paid position (Example: Basket-ball experience gained by coaching basketball). Coaches coaching under previous experience guidelines will be grandfathered.

Coaching Experience will be awarded based on one or both of the following criteria being met:

1. Experience can be verified from an Accredited School District that experience was gained by coaching a school sponsored team.

2. Experience granted by Superintendent of school based upon individual requests. Documentation shall be provided to support request.

Effective July 12, 2006 - One person shall be hired for each position. If two or more people wish to share the same position they would be paid the following:

If John Smith (10 yrs experience) and David Smith (5 yrs experience) were hired to coach a team with a stipend of $2000. They would be paid $2000 (base stipend) + $1000 for John's Experience + $500 for David's divided by 2 = $2,750 to be split between John and David. John and David would be paid $1375 each for the position.

The board went into and out of executive session to discuss Expulsion Review KRS 61.810(1)(f) and Personnel KRS 61.810(1)(c)

The Board denied allowing Student #1959847524 to return to school on August 7, 2014 based on lack of proof that student has met the criteria set forth by the Board in the original expulsion. Student will be allowed to return to school on January 5, 2015 pending meeting all requirements.

With no further business the meeting was adjourned.

Child Find for Children with Disabilities in Need of Special Education or 504 Services

2014-2015

Child Find

The Bracken County School District keeps educational records in a secure location in each school and Board office.

The Bracken County School District obtains written consent from a parent or eligible student (age 18 or who is attending a postsecondary institution), before disclosing personally identifiable information to an entity or individual not authorized to receive it under FERPA.

For students who have been determined eligible for Special Education, educational records will be destroyed at the request of the parents when they are no longer needed to provide educational programs or services. The Bracken County School District may destroy the educational records of a child without parent request five years after they are no longer needed to provide educational programs or services. Parents are advised that data contained in the records may later be needed for Social Security benefits or other purposes. The Bracken County School District may retain, for an indefinite period of time, a record of the student's name, address, telephone number, grades, attendance records, classes attended, grade level completed, and year completed.

Children eligible for Special Education include those children with disabilities who have autism, deaf-blindness, developmental delay, emotional-behavior disability, hearing impairment, mental disability, multiple disabilities, orthopedic impairment, other health impairment, specific learning disability, speech or language impairment, traumatic brain injury, or visual impairment and who because of such an impairment need Special Education services.

Children eligible for 504 services include those children in a public elementary and secondary education program who have a current physical or mental impairment that currently substantially limits some major life activity which causes the student's ability to access the school environment or school activities to be substantially limited.

Children eligible for the State-Funded Preschool program include three- and four-year-old children identified with disabilities and four-year-old children who are at-risk, as defined by federal poverty levels up to 150%. Preschool children eligible for special education must have an Individual Education Plan (IEP) instead of a 504 plan to receive State-Funded Preschool program services.

The Bracken County School District has an ongoing "Child Find" system, which is designed to locate, identify and evaluate any child residing in a home, facility, or residence within its geographical boundaries, age three (3) to twenty-one (21) years, who may have a disability and be in need of Special Education or 504 services. This includes children who are not in school; those who are in public, private, or home school; those who are highly mobile such as children who are migrant or homeless; and those who are advancing from grade to grade, who may need but are not receiving Special Education or 504 services.

The district's "Child Find" system includes children with disabilities attending private or home schools within the school district boundaries who may need special education services.

The Bracken County School District will make sure any child enrolled in its district who qualifies for Special Education or 504 services, regardless of how severe the disability, is provided appropriate Special Education or 504 services at no cost to the parents of the child.

Parents, relatives, public and private agency employees, and concerned citizens are urged to help the Bracken County School District find any child who may have a disability and need Special Education or 504 services. The District needs to know the name and age, or date of birth of the child; the name, address, and phone number(s) of the parents or guardian; the possible disability; and other information to determine if Special Education or 504 services are needed.

Letters and phone calls are some of the ways the Bracken County School District collects the information needed. The information the school District collects will be used to contact the parents of the child and find out if the child needs to be evaluated or referred for Special Education or 504 services.

If you know of a child who lives within the boundaries of the Bracken County School District, who may have a disability, and may need but is not receiving Special Education or 504 services, please call 606-735-3349 or send the information to: Jennifer Stewart, Director of Special Education & Section 504 Coordinator, Bracken County Board of Education, 348 West Miami Street, Brooksville, KY 41004.

If you know of a child who attends a private or home school within the boundaries of the Bracken County School District, who may have a disability, and may need but is not receiving Special Education services, please call 606-735-3349 or send the information to: Jennifer Stewart, Director of Special Education & Section 504 Coordinator, Bracken County Board of Education, 348 West Miami Street, Brooksville, KY 41004.

"Child Find" activities will continue throughout the school year. As part of these efforts the Bracken County School District will use screening information, student records, and basic assessment information it collects on all children in the District to help locate those children who have a disability and need Special Education or 504 services. Any information the District collects through "Child Find" is maintained confidentially.

Written Policies and Procedures have been developed which describe the District's requirements regarding the confidentiality of personally identifiable information and "Child Find" activities. There are copies in the Principal's office of each school, and in the Board of Education office. Copies of these Policies and Procedures may be obtained by contacting: Daniel Fisher, Director of Pupil Personnel & Instructional Supervisor, Bracken County Board of Education, 348 West Miami Street, Brooksville, KY 41004.

The District office is open Monday through Friday, from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The Bracken County School District provides a public notice in the native language or other mode of communication of the various populations in the geographical boundaries of the District to the extent feasible.

If you know of someone who may need this notice translated to another language, given orally, or delivered in some other manner or mode of communication, please contact the Director of Pupil Personnel, the Director of Special Education or the Section 504 Coordinator at the address or phone number listed above for the Bracken County Schools.

Fishing options for the dog days

The dog days of summer settled over Kentucky in the last week, bringing the hottest temperatures of the year. The summer heat in July and August make fishing reservoirs a tough prospect.

Even bluegill get grumpy in the larger lakes at this time of year, much less largemouth bass.

“We are getting to the time of year of the maximum production for baitfish, such as shad, in our reservoirs,” said Ryan Oster, fisheries program coordinator for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. “Bass and other predator fish don’t have to search hard for food. The bigger lakes are full of 2- to 3-inch shad; a perfect bite-sized meal for them. They shouldn’t be as hungry on our larger lakes.”

Anglers have options now that reservoir fishing is tough during the day. Oster recommends flowing waters such as creeks and tailwaters below the major reservoirs for fishing during the dog days.

Wade fishing a stream for smallmouth bass is a productive and refreshing way to spend a scorching July or August afternoon. Wading a stream boils fishing down to the essentials; you must carry all of your lures and tackle. Wading harkens back to youthful fishing adventures with older relatives when all you had was one spin cast outfit and a small tackle box.

Streams usually flow low and gentle this time of year, making for easy wading. However, the best fishing of the year is a water rise that follows a soaking rain. Not a flood or water that looks like flowing mud, but a gentle rise that slightly stains the water. Smallmouth bass move to flowing shoals when creeks rise in late summer and hit 4-inch black finessse worms with abandon. They also crush dark brown creature baits that imitate crayfish.

The Cumberland River holds fish like this large brown trout sampled from the river by fisheries biologists in 2011. Wading the Cumberland River for trout or one of the many smallmouth bass streams across Kentucky in July and August produces excellent fishing. The cool water also acts as natural air conditioning.

When streams flow at normal levels in July and August, downsize your lure selection for stream smallmouth bass. A 3-inch Senko-style soft plastic jerkbait really shines in low, clear late summer water. Those in hues of green or brown with gold, green, blue, silver or red glitter seem to catch more smallmouths now than those with just black flakes or no flakes at all.

Topwater lures work well right now in the first and last hours of the day. Smaller, subtler topwaters such as a floating/diving minnow draw more strikes in late summer than loud, aggressive topwaters such as a buzzbait. The peak of topwater fishing on streams is still on the horizon in September.

Log on to the department’s website at fw.ky.gov and click on the “Recreational Fishing” tab, then the “Stream Fisheries” tab for a list of smallmouth streams in Kentucky. Click on the “Where to Fish” tab for public access spots on these streams.

The Cumberland River below Wolf Creek Dam is another great place to wade in July and August where the water flows cold year round. The completion of repairs on Wolf Creek Dam brought back the normal release schedule that improved the water quality in the Cumberland River for trout.

“When you see the fish in the Cumberland now, they are more robust, healthier and there are many more big fish,” said Ron Brooks, director of fisheries for Kentucky Fish and Wildlife.

Last year, Kentucky Fish and Wildlife stocked 13,000 15- to 17-inch quick growing, sterile rainbow trout. “We are starting to see many bigger rainbows from last year’s stockings,” Brooks said.

Earlier this summer, Brooks caught a 24-inch brown trout, followed by 20-inch rainbow trout on consecutive casts while on a wade fishing trip on the Cumberland. “I caught several rainbows over 20 inches,” he said. “It was an incredible day, the best day I’ve ever had.”

Brooks said he overheard a conversation between two anglers through the dense early morning fog that is a summer staple on the Cumberland. One lamented an upcoming trout fishing trip to Montana.

“He said we have more and bigger trout here on the Cumberland tailwater than in Montana,” Brooks said. “When you hear something like that, you know you’ve got something special.”

Trout are holding in deep water under rocks, submerged logs and undercut banks during the day right now in Cumberland River. Brooks had his glory day fly fishing a wet caddis fly, but fly anglers report trout currently prefer midges, prince nymphs and bead-head pheasant tails.

Spinning anglers should work small, suspended jerkbaits in the rainbow trout color over rocks, logs or other trout hiding spots. Small deep-running, crawfish-colored crankbaits fished along submerged rocks, logs and along undercut banks also work well. Brown trout especially like this presentation.

“With all of the air conditions running now, they are generating more electricity with more turbines running at the dam,” Brooks said. “Check the generation schedule before you go and be careful wading or boating.”

To check the generation schedule for the day, call 1-606-678-8697 or log on to the Nashville District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineer’s homepage at www.lrn.usace.army.mil/ and click on the “Missions” tab, then the “Recreation” tab.

The Cumberland is not the only tailwater that holds trout. A list of stocked tailwaters and the monthly trout stocking schedule are under the “Recreational Fishing” tab at fw.ky.gov.

Forget the big lakes during the day in July and August. The flowing waters are best right now.

Treas. Hollenbach warns of Misleading Unclaimed Property Postcards

Treasurer Todd Hollenbach is cautioning Kentuckians to be wary of suspicious mail, email or other contact regarding unclaimed property that does not include the Official Kentucky State Treasury letter head. The Treasurer’s office was recently notified of the suspicious mailings by the National Unclaimed Property Association (NAUPA).

“The majority of these mailings are coming in the form of a postcard with a Denver, Colorado postmark and an unclaimed property message notification,” Treasurer Hollenbach said.

The cards are usually green, blue, yellow, or orange and instruct the recipient to call a toll free number with a provided personal ID number. The callers are then directed to the NAUPA website.

“I want to assure everyone that these postcards are in no way shape or form a part of the Kentucky State Treasury or our Unclaimed Property program, known as Treasure Finders,” Hollenbach said. According to NAUPA, the post cards reportedly are being mailed out by debt collectors.

“If you receive one of these notices,” Hollenbach added, “I’d advise you not to call the number or provide any information. Call us instead.”

“Our Treasure Finders program has been immensely successful, rapidly approaching our goal of returning $120 million dollars to the people of Kentucky,” said Hollenbach. “Unfortunately, with the success and widespread recognition of our program, individuals with ulterior motives have at times used this as an opportunity to portray themselves as being associated with this program. Let me assure you in this case they are not!”

For questions and concerns involving suspicious persons identifying themselves as Kentucky State Treasury or Unclaimed Property representatives, you may notify NAUPA by calling 859-244-8150, or you can contact the Kentucky State

To last of the only Fabulous Five, fare-the-well, Wah Wah Jones, and thank you

Last of the first and only Fabulous Five, Wallace Clayton ‘Wah Wah’ Jones left us this week. He was 88.

Nicknamed Wah Wah by his sister Jackie when she was just learning to talk and couldn’t pronounce his name, stuck.

An All-American for raw-hide tough legends Bear Bryant and Adolph Rupp at Kentucky, Wah Wah was their equal at thriving on toughness.

He had an incredibly full life in and around athletics. High school then college stardom including an Olympics gold medal, the Harlan native was once sheriff of Fayette County and remained a popular fixture around UK athletics all the way to introduction at the 2013-14 basketball season.

A photograph of Jones taken in 1948 represented what I believed a genuine college athlete ought look. At 6-feet-4, heavy muscled shoulders and legs, fiercely competitive, tough, with Clark Kent-like shock of black hair and no tattoos. A twin for Jim Thorpe only larger.

Adolph Rupp was asked frequently about his “favorite player of all time” and Der Baron never said so, but some believe Wah Wah was his man.

In 2011 a newspaper photograph imaged UK All-American Anthony Davis alongside a bent-by-age, Wah Wah Jones. It left me to wonder: Does young Anthony Davis realize he is in the presence of greatness?

Wah Wah Jones.

MARK STOOPS

Who could cast Kentucky’s still-in-the-honeymoon-glow football coach Mark Stoops as villain? Maybe someone who fails to see John Boehner as a windmill chaser. Or, a grumpy Louisville fan.

In Shelbyville last week, still contrite, Bobby Petrino was at the ready but Stoops was a no-show at the Governor’s Cup fete. Cardinal fans called a snub, a UofL house writer said it was UK arrogance. And, Stoops who said he had excused himself weeks ago, offered an apology to the offended.

What it was, was much ado about nothing. An arranged media event turned into war stories-and-golf, and a gaggle of reporters left to hit a deadline with something, anything. Stoops as no-show beat nothing.

Upside fro Governor’s Cup party? Petrino got a stage to himself and Stoops got a larger stage a day later IN Louisville.

POLSON BOOK?

Jarrold Polson will write a book about University of Kentucky basketball. Maybe.

Vantage point and four years inside the self anointed Gold Standard of college hoops as qualifiers, makes this heady stuff. Rare opportunity.

Polson is probably too young, too close, and still too warmed by the golden glow of two Final Fours, to do much more than offer a clutch of anecdotes, name drops and “thank you, thank you’s!” to offer anything earth shaking. But back story possibilities are, to understate the case, intriguing.

- Given his effectiveness over Ryan Harrow, why Polson wasn’t given a sustained chance to be the point guard 2012-13?

- How and why Kyle Wiltjer transferred to Gonzaga?

- Why a coach can sweet talk a recruit, then have no sway with clueless kids determined to leave UK too soon (Doron Lamb, Marquis Teague, James Young)?

More likely, a Polson book would be to make a few dollars, sign a few more autographs, keep whatever limelight is left a bit longer and have brag rights to a campus bookstore shelf spot filed alphabetically with Hatton and Chandler, Mills, Farmer, Sheppard, Krebs and others.

If you were fresh from four years inside a favorite basketball program, had notes filed away, and wanted to embark on a project, how would you proceed?

Consider these preliminaries.

- First, detachment. Accepting this life experience, as unique, unexpected as it was, is history, could you pen a Tell All at risk of being shunned?

- To learn HOW to write about the inside. A Season On the Brink by John Feinstein, would be required reading.

- If the goal was higher than say, a shelf spot at the campus bookstore, alphabetically with tomes by Mills, Farmer, Hatton and Chandler, Krebs and other ex-players and officials, would you be inclined to inform, and more, fascinate freshly? After all, books written about UK basketball placed end to end, might stretch from wherever you are all the way to Fredonia in Caldwell County.

- Then, when the writing starts, time is critical. time to work, time to avoid Sports Center, time to purchase a good Thesaurus and use it, and time to resolve yourself to never use the word great. Ever.

- Ready to begin?

We will see if Jarrod Polson is.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY CANDIDATE

Most fascinating autobiography in Kentucky would be life of man who celebrated his 71st birthday this month.

Clem Haskins.

Fifth of 11 children, he broke the color line in Campbellsville in 1961, became first black and all-stater at Taylor County High School; was, along with Dwight Smith of Princeton, first black player at Western Kentucky where Clem-The-Gem became an All-American. Played nine years in the NBA, returned to coach at WKU, then 13 years at Minnesota where he endured a profound fall from grace.

HALL OF FAME IMAGES

Baseball added five plaques to its hallowed halls last week. Favorites of mine, Atlanta Brave pitchers Greg Maddux and Tom Glavine.

√ Maddux. His money pitch, always low in the zone, headed toward a batter’s knees ... turned left (or right) at the last instant, painted the corner of strike zone, strike three! Consistently.

√ Tom Glavine. Dr. Clever, I called him. Much as umpires in the 1950s let Ted Williams determine what a strike zone was, by his swing or not, NL umpires let Glavine decide where the outside corner was. Consistently.

Remarkably, Maddux and Glavine got to the Hall of Fame on guile, control and smarts, not miles-per-hour.

And so it goes.

SOURCE OF TITLE: Being the same property conveyed to Jackie W. Moore, Jr., and Bobbie Jo Moore, husband and wife, by deed dated August 31, 1998, being of record in Deed Book 150, Page 281, in the Office of the Clerk of Bracken County, Kentucky.

The property shall be sold to the highest and best bidder(s) and said purchaser shall be required to pay cash or the sum of ten percent (10%) of the bid price in cash deposit with the balance of the purchase price to be due and payable in cash or certified funds, within thirty (30) days from the date of sale. The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety, bearing interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the date which is thirty (30) days following the date of sale, until paid, and payable to the Master Commissioner.

The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon. If the total purchase price is not paid in cash, the required deposit shall be applied to any expenses incurred by a default of the purchaser. Provided, however, in the event a party of this action is the successful bidder at the sale of the property by the Master Commissioner, then the said party, upon payment of the court costs and sale expenses and any liens or judgments that have been given priority herein over the lien and judgment of said successful bidder/party, shall have its bid credited against its judgment herein.

If the purchaser(s) fails to comply with the terms of the sale then, in such event, the Master Commissioner shall immediately resell the property upon the same terms and conditions as set forth herein, excepting only any necessary changes in the time and date of sale. Possession of the property herein sold shall be given to the purchaser after payment in full of the purchase price and confirmation of the sale by the Bracken Circuit Court. Pursuant to the Judgment herein, the purchaser shall be required to assume and pay all ad valorem property taxes assessed against the property for 2014 and all subsequent years thereafter. The title interest of the parties to the lawsuit will be conveyed without warranty by the Master Commissioner to the purchaser and the purchaser shall receive a deed to property upon payment of the purchase price in full (and costs of sale, if applicable) and after confirmation of the sale by Bracken Circuit Court, subject to any equity of redemption if the property does not sell for two-thirds of its appraised value.

The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon. If the total purchase price is not paid in cash, the required deposit shall be applied to any expenses incurred by a default of the purchaser. Provided, however, in the event a party of this action is the successful bidder at the sale of the property by the Master Commissioner, then the said party, upon payment of the court costs and sale expenses and any liens or judgments that have been given priority herein over the lien and judgment of said successful bidder/party, shall have its bid credited against its judgment herein.

If the purchaser(s) fails to comply with the terms of the sale then, in such event, the Master Commissioner shall immediately resell the property upon the same terms and conditions as set forth herein, excepting only any necessary changes in the time and date of sale. Possession of the property herein sold shall be given to the purchaser after payment in full of the purchase price and confirmation of the sale by the Bracken Circuit Court. Pursuant to the Judgment herein, the purchaser shall be required to assume and pay all ad valorem property taxes assessed against the property for 2014 and all subsequent years thereafter. The title interest of the parties to the lawsuit will be conveyed without warranty by the Master Commissioner to the purchaser and the purchaser shall receive a deed to property upon payment of the purchase price in full (and costs of sale, if applicable) and after confirmation of the sale by Bracken Circuit Court, subject to any equity of redemption if the property does not sell for two-thirds of its appraised value.

August 3-9 proclaimed National Farmers Market Week

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack has declared August 3 through 9, 2014, "National Farmers Market Week". Throughout the week, USDA will celebrate our nation's thousands of farmers markets, farmers who make them possible and the communities that host them.

The declaration was made via an official proclamation signed by Secretary Vilsack. This year marks the 15th Annual National Farmers Market Week recognizing the important role that farmers markets play in the agricultural and food economy. The U.S. Department of Agriculture began declaring National Farmers Market Week in 2000.

"National Farmers Market Week is a great opportunity for farmers markets across the country to host special events to showcase all the tremendous services they provide," said Secretary Vilsack. "Farmers markets play a key role in developing local and regional food systems that support family farms, and help grow rural economies. They bring communities together, connecting cities with the farms that support them and provide Americans across the country with fresh, healthy food."

In honor of National Farmers Market Week, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) Administrator Anne Alonzo will be at the Dane County Farmers Market located on the grounds of the State Capitol building in Madison, Wisconsin on Saturday, August 2. The Madison farmers market is the largest producer-only farmers market in the U.S. On August 8, the USDA

Farmers Market, located at USDA headquarters in Washington, DC, will host a Healthy Back-To-School Challenge to show kids and their families how to cook simple, healthy, and delicious snacks with seasonal ingredients. Other USDA officials will be at other farmers market locations across the country throughout the week.

Thousands of farmers markets across the country offer consumers fresh, affordable, convenient, and healthful products sold directly from the farm. They also offer additional market opportunities for local producers, especially smaller or newer operations. Farmers markets increasingly offer electronic benefits transfer technology that can be used by recipients of USDA's Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program - as well as low-income women, infants, and children and seniors participating in the WIC and Senior Farmers' Market Nutrition Programs - to get fresh, seasonal ingredients.

Farmers market development is a cornerstone of the USDA's Know Your Farmer, Know Your Food Initiative, which coordinates the Department's policy, resources, and outreach efforts related to local and regional food systems. Secretary Vilsack has identified strengthening local food systems as one of the four pillars of USDA's commitment to rural economic development, along with production agriculture (including expanding export markets and improving research), promoting conservation and outdoor recreation opportunities, and growing the biobased economy.
